

I wanted to take a minute and let you know that as I read the paper today, I noticed the article about Banks attempting to supercede our Indiana Do Not Call List with Federal implications that would allow many more sales calls into my home than under the current Indiana Law. I like many others appreciate my privacy, and want calls to my house to be from people who I want calls from, not people who want to sell me stuff I don't want. If I need something, I'll find someone to sell it to me. I make my living in phone sales, IN INDIANA, and I know it can be done. My living is not affected by the list, I simply call people who've asked to be called regarding my products. I, like many others in this state, am VERY upset to hear that banks, including my local bank, would attempt such a step to call to sell products that I didn't ask for. I have young children, and nap times are very important. These calls and callers have very bad timing, and often would wake my children up. The Do Not Call list here in IN has been nothing short of a blessing, and every night that I sit home and have dinner with my family, I thank God that we have peace and quiet together. DO NOT LET THIS ACTION PASS. THE LAW IS STRICT FOR A REASON. IT WORKS BECAUSE IT'S STRICT. IT'S THAT SIMPLE.
